
A: You can reinitiate a trial with a new serial number. Just go to CS6 and, on the left menu, select software under "Home". Then, click on "Update" > "Reinstall trial". If you want, you can also have it update all your installations at once, in the "Installation" tab. There are of course risks on reinstalling the trial, as it might patch/update your licenses, but you have some options for that: If you're on Windows: only reinstall when you're about to make a new trial. Most likely, the installer will ask you to purchase the software after the trial expires. The usual way to avoid that is to use a secondary license key and to keep all licenses/key-generators in your trusted offline folder, so that you don't loose licenses while reinstalling. If you're on Linux: reinstall but make sure you use the terminal to update first and generate new keys (with the "unlock" command). Then, reinstall. You'll have to verify your accounts for all software, but you can do that under the "Accounts" tab in the menu. Q: How to run the php script on a HTML file and download in front end.?
