The network has set the launch date for September 15, but the channel will be available to cable and telco providers everywhere from the beginning. The details and programming for FSPN are still up in the air, but one thing is for sure: It's going to be a SportsCenter-style channel and it's going to be interesting to see how they stack up against ESPN. I'm interested to see how "world wide leader" ESPN responds to the threat of FSPN and its World Wide Leader channel. Brian Roberts, CEO of Comcast Ventures and BH Media, is set to be the lead executive of the channel, according to a report from Reuters. Just a couple of weeks ago, reports claimed that Verizon was in talks with cable operators to launch ESPN 2, but it looks like those talks are over and ESPN is the Verizon plan to get around ESPN's stranglehold on college sports. MTV and MBLN, an up-and-coming network that's already creating buzz on campus

Nature of the estrogenic activity of the antibacterial agent nadifloxacin. Nadifloxacin (Bay 12-8039, NPC-237), an analog of levofloxacin, was shown to have estrogenic activity in cultured MCF-7 human mammary cancer cells. The E2-induced cell growth was inhibited by nadifloxacin at nanomolar concentrations. The compound did not significantly alter E2-induced reporter gene expression in reporter gene assays. However, nadifloxacin caused a significant increase in E2-stimulated transcription of the progesterone receptor gene. The compound also inhibited the growth of MCF-7 cells in response to E2, but only at micromolar concentrations. Thus, the data suggest that nadifloxacin is the estrogenic antibacterial activity of Bay 12-8039 and that it is exerting its effects, at least in part, by antagonism of the effects of E2 on gene expression. When the reality set in, one of the greater challenges lay ahead: Once the cracks are there, once the narrative is exposed for the sham it is, how do you fix it? “We need a cultural shift,” says Warren T. McCree III, chief executive of the Union League Club in New York, the city’s oldest private club. In truth, Mr. McCree said,
