A comparison of two restorative materials in primary molars: a randomized clinical trial. The aim of this randomized clinical trial was to evaluate and compare the microtensile bond strength (MTBS) of two composite resins to the cavity walls of primary molars and the marginal integrity at the restoration margin using a microtensile test. Eighteen crowns were polymerized using a single bond system and divided randomly into three groups (n=6): Group I: Filtek Z250; Group II: Filtek P60; Group III: Filtek
